

I object to the content of the super bowl half-time show. I object to the performance of Justin Timberlake, Janet Jackson and the rapper "name unknown" who frequently held himself in a private area during his performance. These people should be held accoutable for their indecent actions broadcast live on nationwide TV. Ultimately it is the performer who should be taught a serious lession in common decency.